Sketch of the Rebel General William R.

Terry.
The rebel General Terry is reported to have been killed in the assault on Fort Steedman on the 25th inst. It has been erroneously stated and believed that this officer was the Judge Terry, of California, who killed Broderick about the year 1857. This is a mistake. It was David J. Terry who was engaged in the duel with Broderick. The rebel general Terry, is William R. Terry, of Virginia, and commander of the famous "Stonewall brigade," originally raised by Thomas J. Jackson. Terry entered the rebel service as a captain in the Pifth Virginia infantity, and has been connected with the regiment and with the "stonewall brigade" ever since. During the time he has served in every capacity from captain to brigadier general. His command was attached to Pickett's division, but temporarily served under Jubel Early in the valley, and was badly dangaged at Cedar run. It was transferred in January last, with the rest of Early's corps, under Gordon, to Petersburg. Terry's brigade appears to have led the assault on Fort Steedman, in which its leader was killed. in the assault on Fort Steedman on the 25th inst. It has

THE PRESS REPORTS.

The City Point Despatch.

Ciry Point Despatch.

Ciry Point, March 25—8 P. M.

The result of the engagement this morning was more important than at first reported.

At the point where the enemy charged, the main lines are only one hundred and fifty yards apart, the ground between being level and free from obstructions, except the abatis in front of the works on each side. At this place firing hatween the pickets has been almost continuous. between the pickets has been almost continuous, and scarcely a day passes without two or three being wounded scarcely a day passes without two or three being wounded on our side at least.

This part of the line has been occupied by the Third brigade of the First division of the Ninth corps, General McLaughlin commanding. He has often expressed his ability to break turough the enemy's lines here, and only yesterday he showed how it could be done to some visi-tors, who were inspecting the works.

This morning four divisions of the enemy were massed in the rear of their line, under the command of General Terry, who was appointed to lead the charge. These troops consisted of Bushrod Johnson's, Walker's, Evans' and Gues' divisions, of General Gordon's corps. At five A. M. the charge was made, and the time occu pied in crossing the space between the lines, cutting down the abatis and getting to the rear of the fort was the work of only a few minutes. Here they formed in line of battle, brigade front, and while one portion ad-vanced on the fort the other swept the right in towards the Appointtox, expecting to flank and capture the whole line to the river. The latter party were met by the Seventeenth Michigan and driven back after some hard fighting.

The force that attacked the fort were repulsed by the The force that attacked the fort were repulsed by the garrison several times; but, their numbers being so superior to ours, they finally overpowered and took prisoners nearly all who were in it. They at once sent the captured over the works to their lines, and many succeeded in getting away and running back, the guard being very small that had charge of them.

General Wilcox moved up part of his command from the right to the scene of action, and soon drove the enomy from the line on the right of the fort. General the line, to the left, was quickly on the ground, with re-inforcements, and at once assaulted the fort in turn from the rear, which the rebels seemed determined to hold at all hazards. Three repeated charges were made, and after that the fighting here was over, the "Johnies" laying down their arms and surrendering.

To the left of Fort Steedman is located battery No. 11, which the enemy also managed to get possession of, but did not keep it long, and although they fought hard they were forced to relinquish it.

It was at first reported that the rebels had carried off three mortars; but this proves to have been a mistake. They took one over the side of the fort; but, in their haste to get back to their lines, they dropped it within a few yards of the breastworks, from which place it will be brought in to-night.

The loss of the enemy is much heavier than ours.

Their dead and wounded number more than double ours, while we have over eighteen hundred prisoners, among them about forty officers. The works on both sides were lined with soldiers watching the proceedings.

The Third Maryland, Captain Carter commanding, and the One Hundredth Pennsylvania Volunteers, are highly spoken of for their bravery on the occasion. Five stands of colors were taken by General Wilcox's division; Capt. Johnson, of the Fifth Virginia; private J. B. Chamb of the First Virginia, and Corporal M. D. Deurie each

It is reported that General Gordon, in the fight this morning, was seen urging his men to fight, and at times exclamation, "By God! just as I thought; the man won't fight;" after which he left, and was not afterwards seen.
Licontohant Nye, of the Fourteenth Massachusetts battery, was killed while fighting his guns. He was ordered to surrender, but refused, and six bullets were found to have entered his body. He was a gallant officer and much estremed by his men.

Colonel Pentacost, of the One Hundredth Pennsylvania, was also killed while gallantly leading his men in the action. This regiment is composed mostly of new men, and are credited with having behaved like veterans.

The Annapolis Despatch. ANNAPOLIS, March 27, 1865. Anxarolas, March 27, 1865.
The flag of truce boats New York and Manhattan have arrived from Varina, with one thousand three hundred and tifteen paroled men and sixty officers. Most of the latter were captured in North Carolina.

When these boats left fighting was going on in front of Potersburg, and reports said that Grant had advanced his lines some miles. General Sheridan, with his whole cavalry force, crossed the James at Deep Bottom yesterday morning to join General Grant. Everything shows that some decisive move was about to take place.

No papers could be had from the rebels. About one hundred of the sick were admitted into the

The Philadelphia Despatch. PHILADELPHIA, March 27, 1865.

A despatch from City Point gives the following among the losses in the fight on Saturday:—In the Fourteenth New York heavy artillery, Captain Holden, Company L, wounded; Lieutenant Baccus, Company G, prisoner; Lieutenant Foote, Company M, prisoner; Lieutenant Picket Company F, prisoner. Company G of this regi-ment has but twenty men left, thirty-five being taken prisoners. Fow of the regiment were either killed or wounded.

News from Mexico.

AMPORTED DEPRAT OF THE PERCH—RETALIATION
OF THE MEXICANS.

WASHINGTON, March 27, 1865.

Semi-official advices from Chihuahua, Mexico, to the 11d of February have been received here. An extra of the official paper contains the following news of a French defeat:—

defeat:—
The government has just received authentic intelligence that Gen. Corena, after having caused the French force, which marched from Durango to Magatlan, through the Sierra Nevada, some loss, defeated entirely, in the village of Veranos, a part of the regiment of Chaseurs des Vincennes, shooting in retaliation all those who were not killed on the battle field.

Other advices state that the French forces at Durango advanced to Chibashus, and on the 20th of January than advanced to Chibushus, and on the 20th of January they were at Rio Florida. The next day, however, they re-turned to Durango, the Mexicans being prepared to re-ceive them. General Negrets had left Chinahna with all the available force there to meet the French.

The Rebel Troops to Join General Lee, &c.,

The steamer Evening Star, Captain Winpenny, from New Orleans 19th inst., arrived at this port yesterday. We are indebted to her officers for the prompt delivery of our despatches and for complete files of newspapers.

Mr. Henry Thompson's Despatch. DAUPHIN ISLAND, Ala., March 15, 1865.

The authorities at Mobile yesterday and to-day have re fused to exchange newspapers. No reason is given by them for doing so, but it is supposed that they may wish to withhold news from us of disaster to their arms.

One of our Monitors to-day made an important recon-noissance up Mobile Bay. The strength as well as the position of several of the enemy's most important works was discovered. The rebels allowed the Monitor to go where she pleased without firing upon her.

THE BEST LEADERS AT MOBILE PREPARING FOR A DESPERATE Deserters and refugees from Mobile are hourly picked up by the feet and brought to headquarters. They state that the robels are convinced that an advance will be made immediately upon the city by a powerful combined force of the army and navy. The authorities command-ing the city appear determined to make a desperate and STORMY WEATHER.

As I write this despatch the wind blows a gale from

[From the New Orleans Indopendent, March 17.]

A lady, in whom implicit confidence is placed, and arrived here last week direct from Mobile, states that when she left that city all appearances indicated that it was being evacuated by the robel troops. Information has since been received here which would justify the correctness of this opinion. The report of its evacuation is also credited by the military authorities here. It matters very little whother Mobile be evacuated or not; whenever the federals want the city they'll march on it and take possession.

on it and take possession.

CONUNCTION WITH LEE'S FORCES CONTEMPLATED,

[From the New Orleans Times, March 18.]

Descrivers and spice say there are only eight thousand men at Mobile, and that they contemplate evacuating that place. Their destination is unknown. A conjunction with Lee's forces somewhere about East Tennessee is intended, according to reports of the aforesaid descrivers. The weather is rough, with evidences of an impending storm.

Fort Morgan has been firing at intervals all day. Skirmishes with rebel vessels within ten miles are reported.

REBEL'S REPORTED TO HAVE BEEN DRIVEN PROME THREE BLATTERIES.

[From the New Orleans True Delta, March 18.]

The heavy guns up the bay are still heard at all hours of the day, and a courier just in reports that the rebels have been driven from three batteries.

We are in almost hourly expectation of receiving the order to advance. Transportation has been cut down to the smallest limit possible, and even surplus medical stores will be left behind.

THE DISCHARGE OF B. A. M'DONALD-TORONTO, C. W., Dec. 25, 1864.
Major General John A. Dix, commanding Department of the East:Sir-It having come to our knowledge that a large sin—it having come to our knowledge that a large number of persons have been placed under arrest by your order, charged with being connected with the re-cent attempt to fire the hotels in the city of New York, and among whom is one Benjamin A. McDonald, we, the undersigned, from a sense of duty we owe to B. A. McDonald and others innocently accused, beg leave to cent attempt to are the notes in the city of New York, and among whom is one Benjamin A. McDonald, we, the undereigned, from a sense of duty we owe to B. A. McDonald and others innecently accused, beg leave to submit for your consideration the following statement, hoping it may be the means of the speedy release of the said McDonald, who, we most solemniy attest, is wholly innecent of the charges preferred against him, or of any knowledge of the intention of the undersigned to fire the hotels in your city.

The entire plan was originated and matured in Canada, and all the arrangements for phosphorus and other material necessary for the purpose were perfected before we tarted on the expedition. Hefore starting, however, two or three of us were furnished with letters of introduction to McDonald, by his brother in Canada, simply stating in substance that the bearers vided New York for business purposes, and requested that he would see that they were comfortably quariered, as they were strangers in the city and might need his advice. The introduction was honored, and through him two of the undersigned procured lodging with a Mrs. —, who occupies the dwelling part of the house No. 3 Union square, the other part being occupied by the Driggs' Plano Manufacturing Company, by whom McDonald was employed. We also asked the privilege of depositing our funds in the safe of the company, and was referred to Mr. Colwell, the treasurer of the concern, who permitted us to do so, and afterward whenever we had occasions to use some of the money we applied to Mr. Colwell, and never to our knowledge to Mr. McDonald; and whatever time was spent in the rooms of the company, was in the society of Mr. C. and other members and employes of the concern, we almost invariably found McDonald usey, and seldom passed more than the time of day with him. And we most solvennly assert and declare that never, to our positive knowledge, did we, or either of us, ever communicate to said McDonald alle know of our intention it was purely conjecture; but the same was sworn to.

I hereby certify and soleumly askert that this is a true copy of the statement signed by myself and others, in Toronto, C. W., in December last.

By the arrival at this port yesterday morning of the bark Angler, from Port au Prince, we have details of a fearful conflagration in that city.

On the 28th of February last, at the close of the carnival, there was to have been a performance in the evening at the theatre; but, in lighting the lamps, through some carelessness, the scenery caught fire. The building was soon destroyed, and the flames spread from house to house, until four hundred houses were destroyed, involving a loss of forty to fifty millions of Haytien dellars, and depriving hundreds of persons of their homes. The and depriving hundreds of persons of their homes. The fire, though lasting only six hours, destroyed the most active business part of the city. There were but a few fire engines, and such a scarcity of axes that hardly anything could be done to arrest the progress of the flames. The consternation of the people was great. For several days after the fire the city was patroled by guards. The government is taking measures to assist the sufferers, and a general subscription has been opened for their
